About the artist

Mimi Pacheco, born in New York City, is a professional Artist, with international exposure, and an insightful teacher. Exposed early in life to the versatility of different cultures Mimi accredits her artistic vision and passion to the amalgamation of foreign cultures. As a child, she was always drawing, painting, and creating something from anything. Art and her Faith was her constant.

Advised to pursue a career in fine art, she initially pursued the Architecture program at Arizona State University. Although she found architecture inspiring, she was clearly focused on creatively expressing her perceptions, understanding art concepts, and honing her artistic skills.

Mimi found meaning and purpose in a fine art career. Motivated by a powerful inspiration, "Be true to yourself, for only you and our Creator are solely present on the instant of your death". Mimi was compelled to follow her calling and pursue a career in Fine Arts. She transferred to Parson's School of Design, New York City, New York. Mimi received a BFA and Master's degree in Fine Arts and Education: Parson's School of Design in NYC; Parson's in Paris; L'Ecole de Beaux Artes; Kean University.

For over twenty-seven years, Mimi is committed to painting, developing her life's work, and fulfilling commissions.

"I am inspired and challenged as an artist, to perpetually explore, search, and analyze, universal truths namelessly, hidden in all that we see. My work intimately connects me with life and boldly exemplifies all elements seen and unseen. Art is the symphony of life. I believe we are all linked, and under the gentle canopy of life's universal truths, we exist eternally."

With tremendous pleasure and gratification Mimi teaches and shares her fine art knowledge and experience with students age 6-adults.

"Using age appropriate discretion, my method of teaching art focuses on skill development, training the artistic eye, gaining a creative voice, and confidence in expression. I believe we have the free will to share of ourselves. I feel blessed to teach Art."
